Bids On Paving Are Narrowed Down to 3

COMMISSION WILL HOLD FINAL SESSION AT 9 A. M. TODAY

EXCEPTIONALLY LOW BIDS MADE

Board Held Two Sessions Yesterday and Sifted Bids Down to Three Firms.

Failing yesterday after two sessions to reach a decision as to the awarding of the contract for the street paving work to be done here, but narrowing the bidders down to three firms, the paving commission will hold a third session this morning at 9 o'clock and probably make an award of the contract.

The commission met yesterday at noon and opened bids. After an hour's session, during which time the bids were gotten in shape for consideration, the commission recessed until 3:30 o'clock. At that hour they met again and in a session lasting something over two hours gave further consideration to the bids.

All bids were rejected but three and from among these the commission will probably select a winner at a meeting to be held this morning at 9 o'clock. The three bidders who are left in the running are: Noll Construction company, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Southern Paving Construction company, Chattanooga, Tenn.; and R. M. Hudson, Atlanta.

Bids Are Low.
The bids as a whole are exceptionally low. Paving salesmen present yesterday were agreed that the bids were as low as any they had ever known, with the possible exception of those submitted at Greensboro, N. C., a few days ago, where contracts for paving work were let.

The commission has not yet decided what streets will be paved. They have decided, however, to do all paving with brick and asphalt in various forms.

The Bidders.
The commission in letting the contract is being guided by Consulting Engineer Gilbert C. White, of Charlotte, N. C., and Resident Engineer Wade A. Sanders.

Eleven firms of contractors submitted bids, the names following, the figures denoting the amounts of certified checks accompanying the bids: West Construction company, Atlanta, $6,000.

Union Paving company, Baltimore $6,500.

Lawson Construction company, Norfolk, $6,000.

F. M. Hudson, Atlanta, $6,000.

Southern Asphalt Construction company, Birmingham, $7,000.

Atlantic Bitulithic company, Richmond, $8,000.

Georgia Engineering company, Augusta, $10,000.

A. J. Martin, Augusta, $10,000.

Noll Construction company, Chattanooga, $6,000.

Porter and Boyd, Charlotte, $5,000.

Southern Paving Construction company, Chattanooga, $10,000.

GREAT TIMES FOR AMATEUR AD. WRITERS

Suggestions to Those Who Anticipate Entering Contest—First Prize $5.00.

Can you write advertisements? Most every one likes to try. Well, here's your chance. Go to any of the merchants whose names appears below, ask them what it is they want advertised, and to tell you what points they want made—whether style, service, price, or what not. If you wish any illustrations, come to the advertising department of the Intelligencer, and they will be cheerfully supplied you. Don't try to write a "literary" ad; just give good sense reasons as to why the public should patronize that particular store, or why they should buy this particular article at this particular time. Try to make your ad logical and convincing.

You will thoroughly enjoy the pastime of preparing the ads; you may win one of the prizes; and then again, this may lead to your entering the very fascinating profession of advertising, which pays some pretty nifty salaries at the top of the heap.

The ads are to be written and submitted to the merchants by Friday noon at the latest. Either the merchant, whose advertisement you write, or the Advertising Manager of The Intelligencer will pass on the ads submitted to each merchant, so as to determine which ad will be entered in the contest by the merchant.

Then, after all ads are published Sunday, a committee from the Anderson Ad Mens Club will judge the ads, and decide which ads win the first, second and third prizes. The three winning ads will be published twice more after Sunday and the names of the winners will also be published.

There is considerable interest manifest already, and those who intend entering will do well to call on the merchants at once and get their "dope" and begin at once the preparation of their "copy."

The prizes will be awarded for the best ads, as follows:
First Prize.....$5.00
Second Prize.....$2.50
Third Prize.....$1.00

Every white person is eligible except the regular ad writers and those connected with the newspaper. Write ads on one side of unruled paper; and all ads must be ten inches deep, across three columns.

Now get busy! There's nothing to buy; only a little brain work, which you will thoroughly enjoy, and somebody gets the money. It may be you, and then again it may be some one else. See the show windows of the merchants entering this contest, you will get some very valuable pointers from them.

Herewith is given a list of the merchants who thus far have signified their intention of entering this contest: W. H. Lyon, Moore-Wilson Co., Marchbanks & Babb, Columbia Tailoring Co., Anderson Gas Co., Parker & Bolt, Geisberg Bros. Shoe Co., John
